ETS Awarded McMoRan Davey Jones Project

Enviro-Tech Systems has been recently awarded a contract to supply the produced water treatment equipment for the McMoRan Davey Jones project. The Davey Jones project beings McMoRan's newest venture into Gulf of Mexico deep water drilling and represents their first major attempt to re-enter the energy market since their exit over 10 years ago. The Enviro-Tech Systems design chosen includes the latest in conventional treatment technology including Plate Separation followed by Induced Gas Flotation thus, providing the necessary treatment to meet the government regulatory standard.
