ETS Awarded Sump Equipment for Jack & St. Malo Project

Chevron /Mustang Engineering award Enviro-Tech Systems a large contract to supply all of the Drain Sump systems using the latest Plate Separation technology. These sumps are used to collect and treat all rainwater and washdown water collected on the platform. The design provides greater separation capability within a smaller footprint which is of special interest on FPSO operations. The design also takes into consideration platform movement. Expected completion of the project for Enviro-Tech Systems is mid 2011.
